

QUID

Quality, Inclusion & Digitalisation

2021-1-IT02-KA220-SCH-000032518

What's happened since Newsletter 1?

As the first implementation area of the project, to improve the quality of education and teachers' training content and to analyse the current situation, each project partner conducted a Field Analysis in their schools using the Focus Group method.

Based on the findings that have emerged, the partners WILL DESIGN THE TRAINING PROGRAM defining teaching methodologies, selection criteria for teachers, methods to assess and evaluate learning outcomes, didactic testing actions with the students of their courses and, after verifying the effectiveness of the model, with other colleagues through train the trainer actions.

Project Meeting Warsaw-Poland 29-30 June 2022

- ✓ Project Result 1: QUID training program: become an educational innovation advisor
- ✓ T.1.1. Presentation of results of partner focus group
- ✓ T.1.2 Definition of the training program
- ✓ Introduction to Project Result 2: Open Educational Resources for digital upskilling
- ✓ Presentation on Quality
- ✓ Financial and Administrative aspects
- ✓ Dissemination

Within the scope of Project Results 1, the partners shared the results of the Focus Groups and questionnaires they had implemented in their countries at the meeting.

Project Result 2: Open Educational Resources For Digital Upskilling

The meeting laid the foundation for the digital training module to be developed and the training content to be prepared within the scope of the project. This module will be supported by a training of trainers. The specific aim of the Study Course is, in the first instance, for Italian, Spanish, Turkish, Portuguese, Maltese and Polish educators of the organisations and bodies in the QUID project, and successively for other educators, to develop their digital and methodological skills to favour their evolution towards the role of Educational Innovation Advisor.

THE DISSEMINATION OF PROJECT:

So far in the process of dissemination of the project;
